Elderly people who live alone should be taken care of.

Write 100–120 words.

Elderly people often live alone. They lose their husbands and wives. Their grown-up children leave home and cannot take care of their old parents. Who should look after pensioners?

I think old people need our attention. Firstly, they are not healthy. They cannot look after themselves properly. Secondly, they suffer from being lonely. Old people don't have many friends, they don't go to clubs or cinemas. Besides, they are short of money. That's why there is not much to do for entertainment. So, the elderly should be taken care of.

New technologies can help to take care of old people. But on the other hand, lifeless machine cannot replace a human being.

To sum up, our grandparents need to be looked after. They gave us all their love and deserve our attention.
